Presented by the Indiana CPA Society

S P O N S O R P L E D G E F O R M

- What: 2009 Indiana CPA Society Case Study Competition
- Who: Top Business Students from Indiana Colleges
- When: September 18 – October 16, 2009
- Why: To Provide Business Experience to Indiana College Students

As a leader in the CPA profession, you are aware of the human resource issues facing the profession. The Indiana CPA Society is working to encourage Indiana’s best and brightest students to consider the CPA profession. INCPAS student membership is free for college students, and new student initiatives are underway. The Society’s annual Case Study Competition was created to give college students the opportunity to gain practical business experience. Winners will be announced on Oct. 16, 2009, at CPA Celebration ’09.

Here’s an opportunity for your firm or company to gain recognition from many of the state’s top college accounting students and educators. INCPAS member’s firms and companies can sponsor the competition by contributing to the competition’s cash prize fund. $1,000, $750 and $500 prizes will be given to each member of the top three teams, plus $100 will be presented to each member of the remaining three finalists. Excess funds will be allocated for scholarships. All contributions are tax deductible. Support the future of the CPA profession in Indiana by choosing a sponsorship amount below and returning via mail or fax.
